

Practice & Exercise

First try to finish your Plate, as that is important to you and me. This will be a solid step toward changing your artistic renderings as you now have an understanding of how the basic rules work when developing a picture. You now know it is far more than finding a great view, or cute combination of things to draw or paint.

My hope is you will continue to draw with every opportunity helping your personal growth of eye-hand coordination develop further and stay warm within you.

With classes in Color Layering soon to be offered an introduction to Translucent Polychromos a new understanding of color and how it works. Come discover the 20 hidden colors in two pencils. Recording these 20 colors will assist you in finding hues quickly for future pictures with spot on color selections.

Just off the drawing board

