Serious Tip:

As you develop the colors needed for your picture pull those pencils aside keeping them from the others in order to skip the time thief of having to find them again. The Mistake Bug of using the wrong pencil often adds to the work planned.

Searching for the pencil you need over and over has been known to take as much time as the drawing. A clean well organized work space pays for itself every day.

How to fix this: Secure all the pencils for a picture in a small plastic box and label it the name of the picture you are working on.

I admire you greatly, few people understand the gift that burns within your heart, but you know it's there and from whets' it came.
